DESTRUCTIVE WORK.

It Is Being Carried on by the Cuban Insurgents.

HAVANA ALMOST SURROUNDED.

Communication Cut Off From All Sources and the Movements of Either the Spanish or Cuban Forces Can Not Be Learned. The Affairs Are Surely Approaching a Crisis.

HAVANA, Jan. 7.—Little news is received in this city regarding the movements of either the Spanish or Cuban forces, the lines of communication being cut in every direction out of Havana. Enough is reported from points in the province of Pinar del Rio, however, to show that the insurgent columns have covered a wide territory in that province and are unceasingly destroying the sugar cane and damaging the tobacco crop.

At Cabanas, a seaport town of considerable importance on the northern coast, the insurgents have destroyed the lighthouse. The destruction of Guira Melena, the burning of which was previously reported in these dispatches, seems to have been complete. Guira Melena is an important village of 4,000 inhabitants in a fertile district.

The report from there said that the insurgents plundered the church, the business houses, the stores and private residences and then destroyed them entirely. They are also said to have killed the mayor and a prominent merchant of the place. Similar tales come from old towns in the route of the insurgents' march. Guara, a small village east of Guira Melena, and west of Guines, was also burned.

The mayor of the village of San Felipe, it is said, was intent upon offering a vigorous resistance to the invasion of his town by the insurgents. The mayor's temerity caused much surprise to Maximino Gomez, and his forces set about to burn the village. The citizens went to the mayor with a request that he offer no resistance to Gomez, and thereupon, says the report, he desisted. The zone included in the country about the villages of Quivicán, Durán and San Felipe, in the southern part of the province of Havana, has been swept clean by the destructive torch of the insurgents, and the plantations of Salvador, Julia, San Augustin, Santa Teresa, Mercedes, Mora and Miroso have been burned.

Incoming trains from the south are bringing in vast throngs of refugees, men, women and children, some of whom have been burned out of house and home, but most of whom are simply fleeing from fear of violence, having hastily gathered together a few household goods. This large infusion of panic-stricken people into the city's population spreads a contagion of alarm, and the force and proximity of the insurrection becomes more real to the mind of Havana every hour.

WITHIN SIGHT OF HAVANA.

Insurgents Have Begun Operations in the Eastern Suburbs of the City.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A special to The Journal from Havana says: The insurgent armies are in sight of Havana, and the forcing of muskets and cannon is plainly felt in the eastern suburbs. The trains that can be gotten into the city on the few railroads that have not yet been destroyed by the patriots are loaded with refugees from the surrounding cities and villages. Hundreds of field hands also have arrived in Havana with their families. Some of these men say they saw the insurgents blow up a railroad bridge immediately after the train had crossed within a few miles from the city.

Hundreds of families in the suburbs and in the city have abandoned their homes and are crowding the quay, watching with blanched and eager faces for steamers to take them from the city. All sorts of craft is being utilized by the refugees, who offer their last peseta, so long as the owner is willing to keep them from shore. The steamers which have cleared are crowded to their utmost capacity with fleeing passengers.

All the plantations in the vicinity of Havana have suspended grounding, with the exception of the Toledo cane-fields. This and the advance of the insurgents has caused an alarming exodus of families to Mariánez and the larger seaports.

Advises Sent to Madrid.

MADRID, Jan. 7.—An official dispatch received here from Havana says that the march westward of the insurgents has been arrested by General Navarro, who has defeated them.

The Cuban news recently received here has caused much excitement in Spain, and it is believed that further reinforcements will be dispatched to Cuba.

The military authorities severely criticize Captain General Martínez de Campos for his conduct of the campaign; but the government appears determined to maintain him in command of the government forces on the island of Cuba.

Gomez's Intentions.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The Journal this morning says: Mails from Cuba just received contain an interview with General Gomez, in which he said it was not his intention to capture Havana, because this would necessitate the sacrifice of many human lives, among which would be several members of the families of the revolutionists. He intends to go as near Havana as was necessary to make a demonstration, and convince the world that the insurgents were complete masters of the island, and thus claim recognition by the powers.

Pressing Around Havana.

BARCELONA, Jan. 7.—News most unfavorable to the Spanish government has been received here from Cuba. It is understood that the insurgent forces are pressing around Havana.

PENSION FUND REDUCED.

Appropriations Scaled Down by the Subcommittee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The subcommittee of appropriation in charge of the pension appropriation bill has completed the consideration of the bill, and will report it to the full committee tomorrow. The bill will probably come before the house next week. The bill carries about $137,900,000, a decrease of a little over $2,000,000 from the estimates submitted by the commissioner. This reduction was made because the total appropriation of $140,000,000 was not expended last year, and from the belief, based upon figures, that the high-tide figures for pension appropriation had been passed and that from now on the amount expended will continually decrease.

Three important amendments have been attached to the bill. The first provides that no pension shall be suspended on charge of fraud until the charge shall have first been adjudicated in a United States district court, except where the alleged fraud constitutes a plain violation of the statute, as in the case of the remarriage of a widow. The second amendment provides that any claim under the act of 1893 shall date from the date of the first application. The third amendment repeals the section of the dependent law of 1890 requiring a widow to show that she is dependent for her support on her daily labor.

THE NEW LOAN.

There Is as Yet No Telling How It Will Be Received.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Up to the time of closing the department yesterday the treasury officials had received only a few telegrams concerning the new loan, and these were not of a character to indicate how the announcement had been received throughout the country.

Although the president was constrained to make this a popular loan so far as possible by soliciting individual subscriptions, it is understood that neither he nor Mr. Carlisle place any reliance in its success except through the aid of the syndicate, not because of any lack of confidence, but for the reason that the gold of the country is very largely in the hands of the bankers who are unwilling to part with it except to their own material advantage, especially at this time when it is at a premium.

Counterfeiter Caught at Work.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7.—James W. Blake, who says he has been a railroad man all his life, was captured in a room on Pine street yesterday afternoon just as he was preparing to begin a job of counterfeiting. United States Marshal Lynch and Deputy Quaye, came upon him as he was in the act of melting the metal and captured a set of plaster of paris mold for silver dollars and other implements. The prisoner was taken before United States Commissioner Gray, who held him in bonds of $3,000 to appear before the United States district court May 4. The officers say he is probably a member of a gang. Blake implicates a man named Fred Gibbons in the crime.

Charged With a Double Crime.

PADUCAH, Ky., Jan. 7.—A few days ago the body of a murdered woman was found floating in the river a few miles above here, but up to yesterday her identity was not disclosed. Yesterday, however, it proved to be Mrs. Tew, wife of Walter Tew, a shanty boatman, who lives up near Gilbertsville. It is alleged that he first killed his child and to prevent his wife revealing his crime killed her also. Officer Collins went up and captured Tew at Island Twenty-seven, Tennessee river. He was brought here and lodged in jail.

Death of General M. D. Leggett.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7.—General M. D. Leggett died yesterday evening of apoplexy after an illness of three days, aged 74. General Leggett became a member of Grant's staff at Donelson, as colonel, was breveted major for gallantry at Corinth and major general at Vicksburg. He commanded the Seventeenth corps in the Atlantic campaign. He was commissioner of patents for years under Grant and had been a patent lawyer here since 1875.

Millions of Dollars Involved.

TOLEDO, Jan. 7.—The suit of Adelbert college against the Toledo, Wabash and Western railway was taken up in the circuit court yesterday. It is a suit to establish the priority of $25,000 worth of bonds, but the decision will affect the validity of a $7,000,000 issue. The issue was made under one of the old directorates of the road. The case has been fought through the courts for 12 years and now starts through on its second round.

DALLAS, Jan. 7.—Two children of Abram Leonard were burned to death six miles south of Dallas Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard were at church a mile from their house, which caught fire from some unknown cause. The children, it is believed, were asleep on the floor. The origin of the fire is believed to have been from sparks from an old-fashioned fireplace or grate.

MR. HARRISON TO WED

Rumor Revived About the Ex-President's Nuptials.

SAID TO OCCUR THIS WEEK.

He Goes to New York in a Few Days, When It Is Thought the Ceremony Will Take Place—Tragedy Caused by Jealousy.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—The announcement that ex-President Harrison will leave for New York this week has started anew the rumors regarding his reported approaching marriage to Mrs. Mary Dimmock, niece of his deceased wife. His friends, now generally believe in the truth of the story, the fact that neither he nor Mrs. Dimmock has ever denied it having brought them to think there is foundation in fact for the reports.

For the last month there have been improvements in progress on the residence at 674 North Delaware street, painters and decorators being almost constantly at work. General Harrison's friends now concede that all the indications point to his early nuptials.

Frame Structures Destroyed.

MONTPELIER, Ind., Jan. 7.—At 3 o'clock yesterday morning fire destroyed Thomas O'Brien's saloon, Mrs. Tapley's millinery store, Mendall's barbershop, Dr. Robinson's office, and James Flynn's saloon. All the buildings were frame structures, located on High street. The total loss is $10,000, with $2,600 insurance. The origin of the fire is a mystery. It is the third fire within a week starting in O'Brien's saloon and gamblinghouse.

Tragedy Due to Jealousy.

SCOTTSBURG, Ind., Jan. 7.—There was a terrible tragedy yesterday at Little York, eight miles west of here. Walter Coombs shot his wife through the bowels, she living but 15 minutes. Coombs then shot himself below the heart. He is still alive and begs for some one to kill him. The two children of the Coombs were absent at school. Mrs. Coombs was a highly respected woman and there was no cause save jealousy.

A Wealthy Farmer Insane.

WINAMAC, Ind., 7.—Gustav Podell has been removed to Longcliff hospital for the insane. He is one of the wealthiest farmers in Pulaski county. Some months ago he suddenly developed acute insanity, and seizing an ax, he chopped down the doors of his home, broke the windows, demolished the furniture and severely injured his wife, since which time he has been under forcible restraint.

Insane Because of Grief.

AURORA, Ind., Jan. 7.—James Nicholson of Olean, Ripley county, who disappeared from his home some time ago, and who, it was thought, had committed suicide, has been declared insane and will be taken to the asylum at Indianapolis this week. Young Nicholson became insane by worrying over the death of relatives.

Killed on a Car Step.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Jan. 7.—William Stewart, an employee of the Erie car shops, was crushed between a passenger coach and the side of a building yesterday and instantly killed. He was riding on the steps of the coach and did not notice that the coach was entering the building.

Two Deaths Have Occurred.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Jan. 7.—John Edwards, one of the victims of the Chance & Kruse's sawmill explosion, at Manchester, this county, died Sunday in great agony. This makes two deaths that resulted from the explosion. It is believed that Fred Geisman will also die.

Suffered For Ten Months.

BROOKLYN, Ind., Jan. 7.—Last spring Edward Daily, while riding a horse in harness, was thrown in such a manner as to cause internal injury. He died yesterday, after 10 months' suffering, during which time he was scarcely ever out of bed.

Church Burned.

LAGRANGE, Ind., Jan. 7.—The new house of worship belonging to the United Brethren of this city was destroyed by fire at an early hour Sunday, caused by defective heating apparatus. The loss is $2,500, with $1,000 insurance.

Car Breaker Sentenced.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Jan. 7.—James Shears, one of the burglars arrested for breaking in cars in the Lake Erie and Western, Big Four and Panhandle railroad depots, was found guilty in the circuit court and sentenced to two years in prison.

Schools Closed on Account of Measles.

AURORA, Ind., Jan. 7.—A malignant form of measles which is raging here has compelled the board of health to close the public schools and the Sunday schools. Six deaths have occurred and 30 cases have been reported.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 7.—Charles W. Seymour, sergeant major of the Fifth United States cavalry, died suddenly at 8 o'clock yesterday morning from heart failure, aged 40 years. The deceased was a native of Sangers, Mass., and enlisted in the service in 1877. He served in various Indian campaigns, the most notable being the White river expedition against the Utes in 1879.

COLD IN NEW ENGLAND.

Some Places Report a Temperature of From 20 to 30 Below Zero.

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—The presence of a record-breaking cold wave, which settled down on Massachusetts and the rest of New England last week is still apparent, though the weather shows signs of moderating. The hospitals were all busy yesterday, attending to cases of frostbite. At the Emergency hospital no less than 74 were treated. The water float employees and truckmen suffered severely, and all incoming mariners report having experienced a terrible time.

The mercury was after the record in this city when it started downward, but it did not quite reach it. It fell to 10 degrees below zero, the lowest record made at the signal station since 1886.

Neighboring places suffered more severely. At Hyde Park it was 14 below; at Beverly Farms the record was the same, and at Concord, Mass., it was 12 below. Reports from all over New England show a fall in temperature between 10 and 20 degrees below zero.

Many places in northern New England and the lower provinces report temperature from 20 to 30 below.

Cold in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Exceptionally low temperature prevailed in this section early yesterday, the signal service thermometer indicating 3 degrees below zero between 6 and 9 o'clock. There have been but two colder days in the last 25 years, on Jan. 3, 1875, and Feb. 6, 1895, the record shows 6 degrees below zero. The cold snap is general throughout the state. At Saratoga, 28 degrees below zero is reported; at Syracuse, 32 degrees; at Whitehall, 20 degrees; at Middletown, 11 degrees; at Auburn, 23 degrees, and at Poughkeepsie, 13 degrees.

FREE SILVER.

The Senate Committee on Finance Has a Bill Ready For Introduction.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The senate committee on finance, almost immediately after it went into session, ordered a free coinage bill to be reported to the senate. It provides for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, the coinage of the seigniorage in the treasury, and the application of that coinage to the payment of current and other obligations of the treasury.

A clause is also inserted that directs the secretary of the treasury in redeeming both treasury notes and greenbacks; to use his option in redeeming them in either gold or silver, and not take the option of the holder.

The bill also provides for the retirement of all national bank notes of denominations of less than $10 and the substitution thereof of silver certificates, the bank notes to be replaced by notes of denominations above $10.

There was no debate in the committee over the measure. It was read, and Mr. Voorhees (Dem., Ind.) moved that it be substituted for the bond bill that came from the house. This was done by a yeas and nays vote. Mr. Wolcott, who was absent, being voted for the substitute.

Giant Powder and a Lamp.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—Chester W. McCorkle, young son of the manager of a mine at Dorseyville, is dead and Reuben Fisher, son of Rev. Fisher, of the same place is dying, the result of an explosion of giant powder. The boys had secured a can of the powder and were intending to make powder "mines." Fisher, in sport threw some of the powder into the flame of a lamp carried by McCorkle which caused the latter to jump aside suddenly. He dropped the lamp into the open can, causing a terrific explosion. The boys were badly burned and McCorkle died shortly afterward. Fisher can hardly live through the night.

Kentucky Turned Over to the Republicans.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 7.—The formal transfer of the various state departments took place yesterday. The new officers were sworn in and for the first time in the history of Kentucky the state government is in the hands of Republicans. The house and senate Republican caucuses were held in the afternoon. Hon. Charles Blanford, a supporter of Dr. Hunter for the United States, senate was nominated for speaker of the house, in which body the Republicans have a majority.

Baltimore Overdue.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—The cruisers Philadelphia and Boston are still anchored in San Francisco harbor awaiting the arrival of the Baltimore, and as the latter is now out 80 days from Yokohama, Admiral Beardsley is beginning to wonder what is the matter. The last seen of the Baltimore was by the China, when the vessel was on her way to San Francisco. At that time the cruiser was breaking into a heavy gale, but seemed to be making good weather of it.

Oklahoma After Statehood.

PERRY, O. T., Jan. 7.—The statehood convention meets at Oklahoma City tomorrow and promises to be one of the largest and most interesting ever held in Oklahoma. The Democrats will fight for single statehood, while the Republicans will probably endorse Delegate Flynn's recent bill. It looks now as if the Democrats have captured the delegates from Oklahoma for single statehood, for which the delegates from the five civilized tribes are wildly enthusiastic.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The Homer Randall line of steamers laid up last night for the winter, thus ending the season on the Hudson.

WHERE WILL IT STOP?

SOME STARTLING DISCLOSURES.

An Affair That May Prove More Serious Than the Venezuela Dispute—Efforts to Induce the Little Republic to Break the Charter to Americans and Make a New One to English Capitalists.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A special to a local paper from Washington says: A more important issue than that over the Venezuelan boundary may be raised soon between the United States and Great Britain, if the recent reports from Nicaragua shall be confirmed by later developments.

The substance of these reports, sustained by important evidence, is that British interests are reaching out for the control of the Nicaragua canal, and that the government is being urged to annul the charter to the existing corporation. The reports of British intrigue in Nicaragua which have been sent to the state department, are likely to receive serious attention before the transmission of the report of the Nicaragua commission to congress, and may give a sensational turn to the expected special message of the president on the subject.

The United States, in case of controversy, might be obliged to take its stand upon broader grounds, and to object to any such interference in Central American affairs on the part of Great Britain as it might consider proper on its own self. If a British syndicate should persuade the Nicaraguan officials to annul their concessions to the American company and make new ones to a British company, a question would be presented different from that presented in Venezuela, according to President Cleveland's definition of that question, in the particular that the United States might feel called upon to interfere without regard to the attitude of the existing government of the country affected.

The United States, it is believed (in such a case, would not permit the Monroe doctrine to be construed so narrowly as to justify the increase of European power in Central America contrary to the interests of the United States, even with the consent of the officials who temporarily might shape the policy of the country in which such aggressions took place.

If the efforts of British capitalists to secure the annulment of the American charter seem likely to produce tangible results, representations of a serious nature are likely to be made by the state department to the governments of both Nicaragua and Great Britain against extension of British influence in the construction of the canal.

Nicaragua is now without a diplomatic representative in the United States, but full reports of events in that country are coming to the state department through American consular officers, and already are exciting the anxiety of the officers of the Maritime Canal company.

FOUR LIVES SACRIFICED.

The Crew of the Eaglet Probably Lost at Sea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Four men, the crew of the Eaglet, have probably been lost. The little vessel was sighted on Dec. 22 by the British steamship Massasoil, which has just arrived here. The Eaglet was pounding dismasted in a heavy sea and appeared to have been through a terrific storm. Crocheting to her after deck were the four men. One of them was waving a British flag.

To man and lower a boat from the Massasoil meant certain death to those who would venture into it. As night was coming on the captain of the Massasoil signalled that he would lie by until the following morning. When morning dawned, the Eaglet had disappeared. Nothing has been heard of her since.

To Settle With the Indians.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7.—Special United States Indian Agent James G. Dickson has left for the Union agency at Muscogee, I. T. He goes on orders from the treasury department to make a settlement of the $200,000 claim of the Cherokee-Delawares against the government. The Delawares at one time bought in on the tribal rights of the Cherokees and this represents their share from the recent sale of the strip.

Rainey's Men Threatening.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Jan. 7.—The employees of W. J. Rainey, the coke operator, met at New Haven and adopted resolutions demanding an advance in wages equal to that recently given by the Frick Coke company and threatening to strike if their demands are refused. The foreign workmen are eager for a strike, but the English-speaking workmen are more conservative.

Trouble With the Indians.

FLAGSTAFF, A. T., Jan. 7.—A courier has just arrived from Squaw Tanks, 45 miles northeast of here, with the news that a band of Navajo Indians had three sheep men corralled at that point. The sheriff and posse have left for the relief of the white men and to arrest the Indians. The trouble arises over the rights of the white to graze stock on the public lands.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Jan. 7.—The Artesian Ice and Brewing company's building, one of the largest establishments of its kind in the state, burned yesterday afternoon. The loss will be $100,000.

By the way, what has become of little Mr. Barrett of Massachusetts and his resolution to impeach Mr. Bayard?

The Boston Globe refers to Governor Bradley as "His Acilency," and poots his Presidential aspirations.

The B ade says the shoe manufacturers at Portsmouth spend nearly $20,000 a year advertising their business. That accounts largely for their success.

The Senate Finance Committee will report a bill for the unlimited coinage of silver. Republicans don't appear to be so much opposed to free silver as they profess to be.

EX-GOVERNOR BROWN'S name will go before the Legislature, or at least before the Democratic caucus, for Senator. His entrance into the fight is calculated to complicate things for Hon. Jo. C. S. Blackburn. We'll soon know what's what and who's who.

The big Republican majority in Congress is fast being split up into Reedites, McKinleyites, Mortonites and Harrisonites. The friends of the Ohio statesman seem to fear Czar Reed more than any one else. They accuse the Speaker of ruling the Ways and Means Committee with a dictatorial hand, and of manipulating legislation to advance his own Presidential prospects to the detriment of the Buckeye aspirant.

The New York Journal of Commerce says: "To cut off fifty millions of income, add fifty millions of expenditures, borrow more than fifty millions of the national banks by turning the redemption fund into the Treasury and add over $150,000,000 of legal tender notes necessarily redeemable in gold, while diverting an equal amount of public revenue to the purchase of pig silver to be stacked in the vaults, constitute altogether one of the most reckless programmes of financial maladministration ever chargeable to a legislative body. From each of these acts the country is still suffering, and it is likely to suffer for some time, for most of the gentlemen who controlled the House in the Fifty-first Congress are in control of the House in the Fifty-fourth Congress, and regard with unalloyed satisfaction all that they did six years ago, and with great astonishment and regret all the inevitable results of it."

This is a strong arraignment of the Republicans. Of course they can't see things as the Journal of Commerce does, but they wouldn't acknowledge it, if they did.

River News.

The Courier was in and out on time to-day.
 The marks here show 14 2-10 feet and falling.
 The ice is interfering considerably with navigation.
 The Bay Brothers' new boat will be built at Ironton.
 The new Virginia passed down about 11 o'clock last night having been delayed several hours by the ice. She is advertised for Pittsburg to-night.
 Portsmouth Times: "Captain Edgington announces the Silver Wave and M. P. Wells for sale. He will begin at once the construction of his new boat to be put in the Cincinnati-Portsmouth trade."
 The big towboat W. W. O'Neil consumes 2,400 bushels of coal every twenty-four hours. The John A. Wood, with equal power, but auxiliary, lower pressure engines, burns 1,000 bushels less than the O'Neil in twenty-four hours.
 John Campbell, a deck hand on the towboat Fred Wilson, was struck by a parting cable and instantly killed Sunday night, his neck being broken. The boat was en route to Kanawha River, with her tow of seven barges trailing behind, the river being full of ice. The tow line astern gave away and caught Campbell, who was sweeping the snow from the hurricane deck, directly back of the pilot house.
 The Pittsburg Times sums up the past year's business as follows: "A brief retrospect of the work done on the rivers during 1895 shows that 80,000,000 bushels of coal left Pittsburg, valued at $4,800,000 27,000,000 bushels going in December. The burning of the Iron Queen and the building of the Virginia, her successor, were the features in the packet business. The towboats built were the Fallie, Relief, Clipper, Tornado and James Moren, the latter being the largest boat built in the past twenty years. The losses of the year averaged $240,000, or five per cent of the shipments."
 Mr. CLEVELAND HUGHES has accepted a position as solicitor for the Bodmann Leaf Tobacco Warehouse of Cincinnati. He has been with the Cincinnati House for a year or so.

What Shall I Do?

Is the earnest, almost agonizing cry of weak, tired, nervous women, and crowded, overworked, struggling men. Slight difficulties, ordinary cares, household work or daily labor, magnify themselves into seemingly impassable mountains.

CHIEF JOSEPH.

One of the Noblest Figures and Greatest Warriors in Indian History.

One of the noblest figures in Indian history and one of the greatest warriors is the Nez Perce Chief Joseph. In this same year, 1877, he had resisted attempts to put him and his band on the Lapwai reservation in western Idaho and had sought to carry all his people hundreds of miles to Canada. He outran the force that General Howard had on his trail, escaped from Big Hole, where General Gibbon fought him, and again from General Sturgis, who engaged him in the Yellowstone valley. Sturgis had been sent out by Miles, and when the latter, on the evening of Sept. 19, heard what had occurred, he started the same night with all the available force of the Tongue river cantonment to head off Chief Joseph before he should reach the border.

Hard marching brought the command, on the last day of the month, to Joseph's village in the Bear Paw mountains. The heroic attack was resisted with a valor as heroic, and in a short time Captain Hale, Lieutenant Biddle and 22 soldiers were killed and 4 officers and 38 soldiers wounded, among them being Lieutenant Baird of the general's staff. One gallant charge by Captain Carter, with a small body of Fifth infantry, had cost over a third of his command. Promptly varying his plans, therefore, and adapting them to the situation, the general moved up his artillery, and disposed the troops so as to hold the Indians under siege, with escape impossible.

On the sixth day Chief Joseph advanced to surrender. It was a scene for a painter, a typical scene in American history, when this noble looking warrior, facing General Miles, a worthy counterpart in mien and bearing, handed his rifle to his white conqueror, and with impressive dignity pointed to the sun in the heavens, saying, "From where the sun now stands, I fight no more."

General Miles, in announcing the victory, used the terse, significant phrase, "We have had our usual success." His full report described his brave adversaries as "the boldest men and best marksmen of any Indians I have ever encountered," and Chief Joseph as "a man of more sagacity and intelligence than any Indian I have ever met."—George E. Pond in McClure's Magazine.

STEVENSON'S STYLE.

We Was No Mere Epigram Turner or Pyrotechnist In Expression.

Brilliant as were Stevenson's powers of thought and word, he was no epigram turner, no pyrotechnist in idea or expression. A clear and coherent train of thought runs through his most sparkling chapters; in its elucidation every phrase plays an indispensable role, and the garment of style fits the thought so closely that, although each sentence is in itself a work of art, none exists for itself, but all for the sake of the general effect of the whole.

Significantly excellent is this whole as a medium for the transference of thought; impeccably lucid and limpid, translating all shades of perception, sensation and emotion with such ease and preciseness that the reader scarcely remembers he is absorbing the thought of another. But even this rare merit does not necessarily imply great charm of style. To achieve the highest kind of charm, of beauty, the ear must be enchanted while the mind is definitely and delicately led.

If you do not possess an ear for the music of prose (which has nothing at all to do with the ear for music proper and is different even from an ear for verse, and a good deal less common), no one can make you understand the extraordinary beauty of Stevenson's work. But if you do possess this organ you will rate him, as an artist, at least as high as any poet. The essentials of good poetic form, with its organized measure and accentuation and often its determined rhymes, are symmetry and balance, diversified uniformity, varied repetition, echoing assonance and resonance. The essentials of good prose form are a graceful symmetry, a discreet avoidance of actual in favor of suggested balance, harmony in perpetual diversity, no obvious repetitions or echoes and yet in every phrase a recognition of the form and color of all accompanying

TWO MAYORS.

Lexington Worked Up Over a Muddle in Her Municipal Affairs.

J. B. Simrall, who was elected Mayor of Lexington in November, took the oath of office Monday, but when he proceeded to enter upon the discharge of his official duties Mayor Duncan refused to vacate. As a result, Lexington now has two Mayors, or at least two men claiming to act in that capacity.

Mr. Duncan insists that he was elected in 1894 for the term of four years, and has filed suit against Mr. Simrall charging him with usurping the office.

The trouble all grows out of the alleged conflict between the charter and the Constitution, and this alleged conflict is causing contests in other cities as well as in Lexington.

The courts will have to settle the disputes.

Both branches of Council at Lexington recognize Mr. Simrall as Mayor.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by all druggists.

THE MAYOR WON.

A Clash in the City Council at Bellevue Over the Election of an Attorney.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

The City Council of Bellevue held an exciting session Thursday night. It was a repetition of a fight made two years ago against the re-election by the City Council of Mat Herold as City Attorney. As at that time, Mayor Nagel was presiding officer of the Board of Councilmen.

Thursday night was the time set for the election of a City Attorney, and Councilman Hobson presented the name of Samuel E. Anderson. Mayor Nagel ruled the nomination out of order and produced the State Constitution from which he read a section making it compulsory for every officer of a municipality to be a resident thereof. Anderson living in Newport was, according to Mayor Nagel, ineligible to the office and the nomination was ruled out of order.

Hobson took an appeal from the decision of the Chair, and the Mayor said if he had any appeal to make it must be in the Courts, and ordered Hobson to sit down. Councilman Lawton jumped to his feet and said he did not propose to submit to any such arbitrary ruling of the Chair, and nominated Hobson for Chairman of the Board. This the Mayor also ruled out of order. A compromise was finally effected by Mayor Nagel agreeing to submit the case to any reputable attorney for an opinion and abide thereby.

Two years ago a similar fight was made against Herold, who is, according to Mayor Nagel's ruling, the only person eligible to the office, being the only lawyer living in Bellevue, except John D. Ellis, who is City Judge, and W. H. Lyons, who is a member of the Legislature, both being ineligible by reason of holding other offices. Then the name of N. L. Bennett, now County Judge of Campbell County, was placed in nomination.

Mayor Nagel ruled it out of order and gained his point. Opinions on the subject were obtained from George Washington, a member of the Constitutional Convention, who upheld Mayor Nagel and from an attorney in Covington, who was also a Constitution maker and took a contrary stand to the Mayor. Herold was eventually elected.

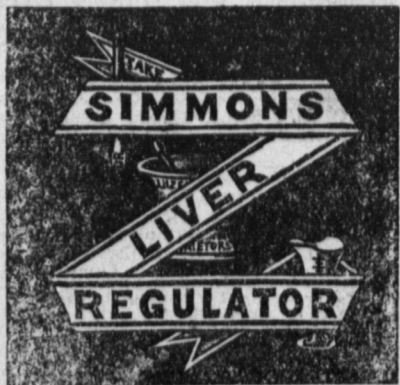

The Council, including the Mayor, is Republican, while Herold is a Democrat. At the Republican convention, when all the present Councilmen were nominated, a motion was made that every nominee of the convention pledge himself to vote against Herold for City Attorney, but the motion was ruled out of order. James Ellis, a Councilman, is a supporter of Herold and the stand Mayor Nagel has taken in the matter, but the other five Councilmen are against him.

UNDER A FALLING CHIMNEY.

Two Lives Crushed Out and Another Man Badly Injured.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Fire caused the loss of two lives, the injury of one man and the destruction of two houses with their contents at Wheaton, a suburb, Sunday night. In battling the fire three men were caught under a falling chimney and were crushed.

The dead are:
Albert Grant, 35, a carpenter.
Arthur Vernon, 25, a printer.
William Shomers was injured.

The flames were discovered in the house of Mrs. T. C. Harvey, a 2-story frame structure, and before the hook and ladder company arrived the flames, fanned into fierceness by the wind, had spread to the house of Mrs. Dannett, next door. Both houses were consumed with their contents, the inmates escaping with nothing but the clothing they had on.

FELL TO DEATH.

Four Miners Hurlled to the Bottom of a Colliery Shaft.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Jan. 7.—A frightful accident occurred at Luke Fiddler colliery early yesterday morning through which four men lost their lives. The victims were Patrick Lynch, Peter Roberts, Stephen Maurate and John Maurate.

A shaft is being sunk and a depth of 900 feet has been reached. The unfortunate men had been in the mine and had prepared a charge for blasting, and went to the surface to fire the blast. The blast was successfully accomplished, the men took their places in the bucket and gave the signal to the engineer in charge of the hoisting engine to lower them to the bottom. All went well until they had been lowered to a distance of 300 feet from the bottom, when the rope caught, and the men were thrown headlong down the shaft to instant death.

One Dying, the Other Locked Up.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 7.—James Johnson was found in the road near Union City yesterday with his throat cut and in a dying condition.
